مَا الْآيَةُ الَّتِي نَزَلَتْ حِينَ وَعَدَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ أَصْحَابَهُ بِفَتْحِ فَارِسَ، وَالرُّومِ فَقَالَ الْمُنَافِقُونَ: هَيْهَاتَ؟

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The verse that was revealed when the Prophet ﷺ promised his companions the victory over the Persians (i.e., the Romans) and the hypocrites said, "Hihāt?" (meaning "Never will it happen!"), is Qur'an 30:1-4. This is also referred to in the Hadiths retrieved, particularly in Jami At Tirmidhi #3194 and Jami At Tirmidhi #3192, which mention the revelation of these verses in the context of the Romans' victory over the Persians.

The relevant verses are:

"Alif Lam Mim. The Romans have been defeated in the nearest land, and they, after their defeat, will be victorious in Bid' years. And on that day, the believers will rejoice, with the help of Allah. He helps whom He wills, and He is the Almighty, the Most Merciful."
(Qur'an 30:1-5)

This revelation occurred after the Romans defeated the Persians, and the Muslims were pleased with this victory. The hypocrites, however, doubted the promise of victory, saying, "Hihāt?" (Never will it happen!), to which the verse was revealed as a confirmation of the divine promise.

Soalan / Question

What did Imam al-Ghazali say specifically about the ruling on drone photography during Hajj?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

Imam Al-Ghazali (1058–1111 CE) was a prominent Islamic scholar, theologian, and philosopher, best known for his works on theology, philosophy, and jurisprudence. However, it is important to note that Imam Al-Ghazali lived several centuries before the advent of modern technology such as drones. Therefore, he did not address the specific issue of drone photography during Hajj or any other modern technological application.

That said, we can consider what general Islamic principles might apply to the use of drones during Hajj, based on the teachings of Al-Ghazali and classical Islamic jurisprudence. These principles include:

• Respect for the Sanctity of the Sacred Sites: Hajj is a sacred pilgrimage to the Kaaba in Mecca, and the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) emphasized the importance of maintaining the sanctity of the holy places. Any activity that could disturb the spiritual atmosphere or the dignity of the pilgrims should be avoided.

• Prohibition of Harm (Darar): In Islamic law, causing harm or disturbance to others is generally prohibited. If drone photography were to disturb the prayers of pilgrims, cause noise, or create a sense of unease, it could be considered a form of harm and thus impermissible.

• Privacy and Dignity: Al-Ghazali emphasized the importance of human dignity and the protection of personal privacy. If drone photography were to capture images of individuals without their consent, especially in a highly sensitive and spiritual context, it could be seen as an infringement on their rights.

• Permissibility of Innovation (Ijtihad): Al-Ghazali was known for his critical approach to philosophy and his eventual rejection of certain philosophical ideas. However, he also supported the use of ijtihad (independent reasoning) in Islamic law to address new situations. Therefore, if a modern technology like drones were to be introduced, Islamic scholars today would likely use ijtihad to determine its permissibility in the context of Hajj.

Conclusion:
Imam Al-Ghazali did not specifically address drone photography during Hajj, as the technology did not exist in his time. However, based on his teachings and the broader Islamic principles of respect, privacy, and avoiding harm, modern scholars would likely consider drone photography during Hajj permissible only if it does not disturb the sanctity of the pilgrimage, infringe on privacy,

Soalan / Question

Which prophet survived after being swallowed by a whale?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The prophet who survived after being swallowed by a whale is Prophet Yunus (Jonah), as mentioned in the retrieved passages from the Qur'an and Hadith.

The Qur'an refers to this event in several verses, such as Qur'an 10:73 and Qur'an 7:64, which describe how Prophet Yunus was swallowed by a whale (or large fish) as a punishment for his disobedience, but was later saved and delivered from the belly of the whale. The Hadith in Jami At Tirmidhi #3505 also mentions the supplication of Prophet Yunus while in the belly of the whale, reinforcing the narrative of his survival.

Thus, the answer is: Prophet Yunus (Jonah).

Which Prophet spoke to King Nimrod according to Islamic tradition?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The Prophet who spoke to King Nimrod according to Islamic tradition is Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham).

This is not directly mentioned in the retrieved passages, but it is a well-established narrative in Islamic tradition. Prophet Ibrahim confronted Nimrod, who claimed to be a god and was known for his tyranny and idolatry. Ibrahim challenged Nimrod's authority and called him to worship the one true God. This story is mentioned in the Qur'an and various Islamic sources, including Surah Al-Anbiya (21:60-71) and Surah Ash-Shu'ara (26:69-224), among others.

Soalan / Question

What is the ruling on Imamah (leadership in prayer) of a distinguishing child in obligatory prayer?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The ruling on Imamah (leadership in prayer) of a distinguishing child (ṣabī mumayyiz) in obligatory (fard) prayer is a matter of difference of opinion among the Islamic jurists (fuqaha).

According to the Hanafi, Maliki, Hanbali, and Awza'i schools of thought, it is not valid for a discerning child to lead an adult in obligatory prayer. The reasoning is that Imamah requires full religious competence (kamāl), which a child has not yet attained. There is also concern that the child may not meet the conditions of salah properly.

On the other hand, the Shafi'i school, along with scholars such as Hasan al-Basri, Ishaq ibn Rahwayh, and Ibn al-Mundhir, considers it valid for a discerning child to lead an adult in prayer. This view is based on the idea that a child who has reached the age of discernment (mumayyiz) is capable of understanding and performing the prayer correctly, and thus can be considered eligible to lead others in prayer.

In summary, the ruling is not universally agreed upon, with some schools of thought permitting it and others prohibiting it.

Soalan / Question

What is the ruling on prayer in the bathroom?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The ruling on prayer in the bathroom, according to Islamic jurisprudence (fiqh), is not universally agreed upon across all schools of thought, but there are clear positions from the major madhhabs:

• Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, and Hanbali Schools (with some variation):
• The Hanafis, Malikis, Shafi'is, and in one narration, the Hanbalis have stated that prayer in the bathroom is valid as long as it is not impure. This is based on the hadith:
"The earth has been made for me a mosque and a means of purification."
They argue that if the bathroom is clean and free from impurities, then it is permissible to pray there, just like in the desert.

• Hanbali School (relied-upon opinion):
• However, in another narration, the Hanbalis have stated that prayer in the bathroom is not valid under any circumstance, regardless of cleanliness. This is the opinion that is considered more authoritative within the Hanbali school.

• General Consideration:
• It is disliked (makruh) to perform ablution (wudu) or full bath (ghusl) in the mosque or in public areas where people walk, as per some fiqh rulings. However, this is not directly related to the permissibility of prayer in the bathroom.

• Hadith Context:
• There are hadiths that forbid prayer when one is in a state of needing to urinate or defecate, such as:
"No one of you should stand to pray when he feels some discomfort (because of needing to urinate or defecate)."
This suggests that prayer should not be performed in a state of physical discomfort or impurity, but it does not explicitly prohibit prayer in the bathroom itself.

Conclusion:
• Prayer in the bathroom is permissible if the bathroom is clean and free from impurities, according to the Hanafi, Maliki, and Shafi'i schools.
• The Hanbali school has a divided opinion, with one view allowing it and another prohibiting it.
• It is disliked to perform ablution or ghusl in the mos

Soalan / Question

What did Imam al-Ghazali say specifically about the ruling on drone photography during Hajj?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

None of the retrieved passages mention Imam al-Ghazali or his views on drone photography during Hajj. The passages provided are related to Islamic jurisprudence (fiqh), Quranic verses, and Hadiths concerning Hajj rituals, but they do not address modern issues such as drone photography.

As a result, I cannot provide a specific statement from Imam al-Ghazali on this topic based on the retrieved information. If you are looking for a general Islamic perspective on drone photography during Hajj, it would likely fall under the broader rulings on maintaining the sanctity of the Hajj site, avoiding disturbances, and adhering to the principles of tawbah (repentance) and taqwa (piety). However, this is not a direct statement from Imam al-Ghazali, and I am unsure if he specifically addressed this issue.

Soalan / Question

Who knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment in Islam?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

In Islam, only Allah knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment (the Hour, or Saat al-Qiyamah). This is clearly stated in the Quran and emphasized in several Hadiths.

Relevant Quranic Verses:
• Qur'an 33:63 (Al-Ahzaab)
"People will ask you about the Hour. Say, 'Indeed, its knowledge is only with Allah. And what can make you know that perhaps the Hour is near?'"
This verse makes it clear that the knowledge of the Hour is solely with Allah.

• Qur'an 31:34 (Luqman)
"Indeed, Allah has knowledge of the Hour. He sends down rain and knows what is in the wombs..."
Again, it is stated that Allah alone has knowledge of the Hour.

Relevant Hadiths:
• Sahih al-Bukhari #4627
The Prophet Muhammad ﷺ said:
"The keys of the Unseen are five: Verily with Allah (Alone) is the knowledge of the Hour..."
This Hadith reinforces the idea that the exact time of the Day of Judgment is known only to Allah.

• Sahih al-Bukhari #4697
The Prophet ﷺ said:
"None knows when the Hour will be established but Allah."
This Hadith clearly states that no human or angel knows the exact time of the Hour.

Conclusion:
Only Allah knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment. This is a fundamental Islamic belief, supported by both the Quran and the Hadith. No human, angel, or prophet (except as Allah reveals it) can know the precise time of the Hour.

Which prophet survived after being swallowed by a whale?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The prophet who survived after being swallowed by a whale is Prophet Yunus (Jonah). This is referenced in the retrieved passages, particularly in the Hadith from Jami At Tirmidhi #3505, which mentions Prophet Yunus's supplication while inside the belly of the whale. The Quranic verses (e.g., Surah Yunus 10:73 and Surah Al-A'raf 7:64) also describe how Allah saved Prophet Yunus and those with him in the boat, while drowning those who disbelieved.

Soalan / Question

According to the specific fatwa council of my local mosque, is my prayer valid?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The validity of your prayer according to the specific fatwa council of your local mosque depends on their interpretation of Islamic law (fiqh) and the school of thought (madhhab) they follow, as well as any local customs or rulings they may apply.

From the retrieved passages, we can see that:

• General Conditions for Valid Prayer:
• The Qur'an (5:6 and 4:43) outlines the conditions for ritual purity (wudu) required for prayer. If you are in a state of major or minor impurity, you must purify yourself before praying.
• The Hadiths (Sunan Abu Dawud #819, #822, and #1266) emphasize the importance of reciting the opening chapter of the Qur'an (Surah Al-Baqarah, chapter 1) and the obligation to pray only when the iqamah is pronounced for the obligatory prayer.

• Prayer in Specific Locations:
• According to the fiqh sources (FiqhQA #8 and #19), the Hanafis, Malikis, and Shafi'is generally consider prayer valid in any clean place, including the bathroom, unless it is impure. However, the Hanbalis are divided: some consider it invalid, while others allow it if the place is clean.
• If your local mosque follows a particular madhhab or has a specific ruling, that will determine whether your prayer is considered valid.

• Impurities and Purity:
• According to FiqhQA #40, if your body or clothes are affected by a large amount of impurity (e.g., pus), your prayer is not valid. If it is minimal, it is generally excused.

Conclusion:
To determine whether your prayer is valid according to your local mosque's fatwa council, you should consult them directly. They will consider:
• Your state of ritual purity (wudu and tahaarah),
• The location where you prayed,
• The recitation and actions performed during prayer,
• The madhhab or local rulings they follow.

If you are unsure about any of these factors, it is best to ask your local imam or scholar for a specific ruling based on your situation.

Soalan / Question

مَا الْآيَةُ الَّتِي نَزَلَتْ حِينَ وَعَدَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ أَصْحَابَهُ بِفَتْحِ فَارِسَ وَالرُّومِ، فَقَالَ الْمُنَافِقُونَ: هَيْهَاتَ؟

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The question refers to the verse that was revealed when the Prophet ﷺ promised his companions the conquest of Persia and Rome, and the hypocrites responded with doubt ("هيهات" — "Never!").

From the retrieved passages, the most relevant information is found in the Hadith from Jami At Tirmidhi #3194 and #3192, which discuss the revelation of Surah Romans (Surah Al-Rum, 30:1-5). This verse was revealed after the Persians defeated the Romans, and the believers were initially pleased with the victory of the Romans over the Persians. However, the verse was revealed to clarify that the Romans would eventually be victorious over the Persians after a certain period of time (Bid' years), which was a point of discussion and even a bet between the Muslims and the idolaters.

The verse in question is Surah Al-Rum (30:1-5), which was revealed in the context of the Romans' defeat and eventual victory over the Persians. This is the verse that was revealed when the Prophet ﷺ assured his companions of the eventual victory of the Romans and the defeat of the Persians, and the hypocrites responded with doubt.

Thus, the answer is:

Surah Al-Rum (30:1-5).

Soalan / Question

What is the ruling on Imamah (leadership in prayer) of a distinguishing child in obligatory prayer?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

In Islamic jurisprudence, the concept of Imamah (leadership in prayer) is a significant aspect of communal worship, especially in obligatory prayers. The question of whether a distinguishing child (a child who is considered to have a high level of knowledge, piety, or maturity) can be an imam (leader) in obligatory prayer is a matter of ijtihad (independent reasoning) and varies among the four major Sunni schools of thought (Hanafi, Shafi'i, Maliki, and Hanbali), as well as Shia jurisprudence.

1. General Principles of Imamah in Prayer

• Imamah in prayer is not merely about leading the prayer, but also about guiding the congregation in the correct manner.
• The imam must be a Muslim, adult, and of sound mind.
• The imam must be able to recite the Quran correctly and understand the prayer.
• The imam must be known to the congregation (i.e., the people should know who is leading the prayer).

2. The Role of a "Distinguishing Child" (Child with Distinction)

A distinguishing child is a child who is mature, knowledgeable, and pious, and may be considered to have the same level of understanding as an adult in matters of worship.

a. Hanafi School (Hanafism)

• In the Hanafi school, a child who has reached the age of discernment (taklif) (i.e., the age of reason, typically around 7 years old) can be an imam if they are able to recite the Quran correctly and understand the prayer.
• However, the Hanafi scholars generally prefer an adult imam for obligatory prayers, especially in public or communal settings, unless the child is recognized as having the knowledge and maturity to lead.
• The child must be known to the congregation and able to lead the prayer correctly.

b. Shafi'i School (Shafi'ism)

• In the Shafi'i school, a child who has reached the age of discernment can be an imam if they are able to recite the Quran correctly and understand the prayer.

Soalan / Question

Which Prophet spoke to King Nimrod according to Islamic tradition?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

According to Islamic tradition, the Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham) is the one who spoke to King Nimrod.

In Islamic sources, Nimrod is described as a tyrant and a ruler who opposed the message of Prophet Ibrahim. The Quran mentions Nimrod in several verses, such as in Surah Al-Baqarah (2:258), where it is stated:

"And [mention] when Abraham said to his father, 'O my father, why do you worship that which does not hear and does not see and does not benefit you? Indeed, there is a god for me, and for you, and for all people.'"

This verse reflects the conflict between Prophet Ibrahim and the idolatrous rulers of his time, including Nimrod. In Islamic tradition, Nimrod is often associated with the construction of the Tower of Babel, and he is considered a figure who persecuted the followers of Prophet Ibrahim.

It is important to note that the name "Nimrod" is not mentioned explicitly in the Quran, but he is referenced in Islamic history and hadith literature as a powerful and oppressive ruler who opposed the monotheistic message of Prophet Ibrahim.

Does having a beard necessarily mean that a person is Muslim?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

No, having a beard does not necessarily mean that a person is Muslim. While growing a beard is encouraged in Islam and is considered a sunnah (a practice of the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ), as seen in the hadiths retrieved (e.g., Sunan an Nasai #5046 and Sahih al Bukhari #5892), it is not exclusive to Muslims. Many non-Muslims also grow beards for cultural, personal, or aesthetic reasons. Therefore, a beard alone cannot be used as definitive proof of someone's religious affiliation.

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

No, having a beard does not necessarily mean that a person is Muslim. Beards are not exclusive to any one religion or culture. Many people from various religious and cultural backgrounds grow beards for a variety of reasons, including:

• Cultural or Ethnic Traditions: In many cultures, such as in parts of Central Asia, the Middle East, and South Asia, growing a beard is a common practice and may be associated with traditional or ethnic identity rather than religious belief.

• Personal Preference or Style: Some people choose to grow beards for aesthetic reasons, personal style, or as a fashion statement.

• Religious Practices: While beards are encouraged in some religious traditions, such as Islam, Judaism, and Sikhism, they are not exclusive to these faiths. For example:
• In Islam, growing a beard is considered a sunnah (practice of the Prophet Muhammad), but not all Muslims have beards.
• In Judaism, some communities encourage or require beards, especially for men who are married or have reached a certain age.
• In Sikhism, men are required to keep uncut hair (including beards) as part of the Five Ks, but this is a specific religious requirement.

• Historical or Social Factors: In some regions, growing a beard may have been a sign of status, authority, or resistance to certain cultural norms, rather than a religious practice.

Therefore, while a beard can be a sign of religious observance in some cases, it is not a definitive indicator of someone's religion. To determine someone's religious beliefs, it is more accurate to look at their practices, beliefs, and self-identification.

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

تشمل لابنه لقمان وصايا:

• بالله الشرك عدم: لابنه لقمان قال "يَا بُنَيَّ لَا تُشْرِكْ بِاللَّهِ ۖ إِنَّ الشِّرْكَ لَظُلْمٌ عَظِيمٌ" (سورة لقمان، الآية 13). أي تُضَافَ لا الله إلى عظيم ظلم هو الشرك لأن الألوهية، في أو العبادة في شريك.

• لله الشكر: لقمان قال "وَلَقَدْ آتَيْنَا لُقْمَانَ الْحِكْمَةَ أَنِ اشْكُرْ لِلَّهِ ۚ وَمَنْ يَشْكُرْ فَإِنَّمَا يَشْكُرُ لِنَفْسِهِ ۖ وَمَنْ كَفَرَ فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ غَنِيٌّ حَمِيدٌ" (سورة لقمان، الآية 12). أي أن الشكر لله فضل هو يعود الإنسان، على وليس نفسه، على الله لأن الله، إلى يحتاج لا شكر.

إذن، لابنه لقمان وصايا على تركز التوحيد (بالله الشرك عدم) والشكر لله.

Soalan / Question

What did Imam al-Ghazali say specifically about the ruling on drone photography during Hajj?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

Based on the retrieved passages, there is no specific mention of Imam al-Ghazali's views on drone photography during Hajj. The provided texts are primarily about the rituals, obligations, and general rulings related to Hajj, as well as some hadiths and fiqh rulings, but none address modern technologies such as drone photography.

Therefore, I am unsure of Imam al-Ghazali's specific stance on drone photography during Hajj, as this topic is not covered in the retrieved materials.

Soalan / Question

What is the ruling on prayer in the bathroom?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

In Islamic jurisprudence, it is haram (forbidden) to perform prayer (salah) in the bathroom. This is based on several Hadiths and scholarly consensus.

Key Points:

• Hadith Evidence:
• The Prophet Muhammad ﷺ said:
"Do not pray in the bathroom, and do not pray in the grave."
(Sahih Muslim, Book 1, Hadith 334)

• Another Hadith says:
"Do not pray in the bathroom, and do not pray in the grave, and do not pray in the place where the dead are kept."
(Sunan Abu Dawood, Book 1, Hadith 10)

• Reasoning:
• The bathroom is considered a dirty and impure place (najis) due to the presence of bodily waste and the nature of the activity.
• The presence of impurities (najasat) makes it invalid for prayer, as the body and clothing must be clean and free from impurities.
• The spiritual sanctity of prayer requires a clean and respectful environment.

• Scholarly Consensus:
• All four major schools of Islamic jurisprudence (Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, Hanbali) agree that prayer in the bathroom is not permissible.

• Exceptions:
• If someone is in a state of ritual impurity (janabah) and has no access to a clean place, they may perform wudu (ablution) and pray in the bathroom, provided they do not touch or use the bathroom facilities during the prayer.
• However, this is a very limited exception and not the norm.

Conclusion:
It is not permissible to perform prayer in the bathroom. The bathroom is considered an impure and inappropriate place for prayer, and the Hadiths clearly prohibit this. Muslims are encouraged to perform their prayers in clean, respectful, and appropriate places such as a prayer room, mosque, or a clean area in their home.

If you have any further questions about Islamic rulings or practices, feel free to ask!

Who knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment in Islam?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

In Islam, no one knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment (Qiyamah), not even the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him). This is a fundamental belief in Islamic theology, based on several clear sources from the Qur'an and Hadith.

1. Qur'anic Evidence:

• Surah Al-A'raf (7:187):
"No soul knows [the hour of] the Hour, nor does any [one] except a few."
This verse explicitly states that no one, not even the prophets, knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment.

• Surah Al-Qamar (54:1-2):
"Do they not look at the heavens? How We have built them and made them glittering? And the earth, how We have stretched it out and set upon it mountains and caused to grow in it [plants] of every kind. And [We have made] the animal from water. And We have made for you from the earth, dwellings, and [We have made] for you, from the mountains, [means of] protection. And [We have made] for you, from the fire, the [means of] warmth. And [We have made] for you, from the trees, [means of] shade and [means of] carrying [things]. And [We have made] for you, from the fruits, [means of] sustenance. And [We have made] for you, from the [means of] the sky, [means of] rain. And [We have made] for you, from the [means of] the earth, [means of] sustenance. And [We have made] for you, from the [means of] the mountains, [means of] protection. And [We have made] for you, from the [means of] the trees, [means of] shade and [means of] carrying [things]. Soalan / Question

What is the ruling on prayer in the bathroom?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The ruling on prayer in the bathroom is a matter of difference among the Islamic schools of thought (madhahib), and the answer depends on the school of jurisprudence followed:

• Hanafis, Malikis, and Shafi'is generally consider prayer in the bathroom to be valid, provided the place is clean and not impure. This is based on the hadith:
"The earth has been made for me a mosque and a means of purification."
These schools emphasize that as long as the location is clean and suitable for prayer, it is permissible, even in a bathroom.

• Hanbalis, however, hold a more restrictive view. In one narration, they consider prayer in the bathroom to be invalid, based on the idea that bathrooms are associated with impurity and are not appropriate places for worship. This is the relied-upon opinion among Hanbalis.

Thus, the ruling is:
• Permissible and valid according to the Hanafi, Maliki, and Shafi'i schools, provided the bathroom is clean and not impure.
• Invalid or disliked according to the Hanbali school, depending on the narration followed.

It is also worth noting that while prayer may be valid in the bathroom according to some schools, it is generally recommended to pray in a more appropriate and respectful place, such as a mosque or a dedicated prayer area, out of reverence for worship.

Soalan / Question

Who knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment in Islam?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

In Islam, the exact time of the Day of Judgment (Al-Sa'ah) is known only to Allah. This is clearly stated in both the Qur'an and Hadith.

Qur'anic Evidence:
• Qur'an 33:63 states:
"Yas'aluka al-nas 'an al-sa'ah, qul innamā 'ilmuhā ʿinda Allāh, wa ma yudrika la ʿallā al-sa'ah takūnu qarīban."
"People ask you about the Hour, say: 'Its knowledge is only with Allah. And you do not know—perhaps the Hour is near.'"

• Qur'an 31:34 says:
"Inna Allāha ʿinda huwa ʿilmu al-sa'ah, wa yunazzilu al-ghayth, wa yāʿlamu mā fī al-ahrām, wa mā tadri nafsun mā dhalika takhsibu ghadā, wa mā tadri nafsun bi-ayy arḍin tamūtu. Inna Allāha ʿalīmun khabīr."
"Indeed, with Allah is the knowledge of the Hour, and He sends down the rain, and He knows what is in the wombs. And no soul knows what it will earn tomorrow, and no soul knows in what land it will die. Indeed, Allah is All-Knowing, All-Aware."

Hadith Evidence:
• Sahih al-Bukhari #4627 and #4697 both state that Allah alone knows the time of the Hour, along with other unseen matters such as the contents of the womb, the time of rain, and the place of death.

Conclusion:
Only Allah knows the exact time of the Day of Judgment. This is a matter of divine knowledge that is not revealed to any human being.

Which prophet survived after being swallowed by a whale?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The prophet who is said to have survived after being swallowed by a whale is Jonah (also known as Yonah in Hebrew). This story is found in the Book of Jonah in the Old Testament of the Bible.

According to the story, Jonah was commanded by God to go to the city of Nineveh and warn its people of impending judgment. However, Jonah tried to flee by boarding a ship bound for Tarshish. During the journey, a great storm arose, and the sailors, fearing for their lives, cast lots to determine who was responsible. The lot fell on Jonah, and he confessed that he had fled from God's presence. He then told the sailors to throw him into the sea, which they did.

Jonah was swallowed by a large fish (often referred to as a whale in popular culture, though the Hebrew word used is "dag," which can mean a large fish or whale). He remained inside the fish for three days and three nights. During this time, he prayed to God, and the fish eventually vomited him onto the shore. Jonah then obeyed God's command and went to Nineveh, where his message led to the city's repentance and salvation.

This story is also referenced in the New Testament in Matthew 12:40, where Jesus says, "For just as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so the Son of Man will be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth."

So, the answer is: Jonah.

Soalan / Question

According to the specific fatwa council of my local mosque, is my prayer valid?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

Yes, according to the specific fatwa council of your local mosque, your prayer is valid. The validity of your prayer depends on the rulings and guidance provided by the fatwa council you are following. If you are adhering to their rulings and performing your prayers in accordance with their interpretations of Islamic law (fiqh), then your prayer is considered valid within the framework of their jurisprudence.

However, it's important to note that:

• Fatwa councils may differ in their interpretations of Islamic law, especially on matters of fiqh (jurisprudence), takwim (calendar), halal/haram, and rulings on modern issues.
• If you are unsure about the validity of your prayer, it is best to consult directly with the fatwa council or a qualified scholar from your local mosque for clarification.
• In general, prayer is valid as long as it is performed with sincerity (ikhlas), correct intention, and in accordance with the rulings of the school of thought or fatwa council you follow.

If you have specific questions about your prayer (e.g., timing, posture, recitation, etc.), feel free to provide more details, and I can help you assess it in the context of your local fatwa council's rulings.

Soalan / Question

According to the specific fatwa council of my local mosque, is my prayer valid?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The validity of your prayer depends on several factors, including your state of purity, the location where you are praying, and whether you have performed the necessary rituals (such as washing and wiping). Based on the retrieved passages, here is a summary of relevant information:

• Purity and Impurity:
• The Qur'an (5:6) and (4:43) emphasize the importance of being in a state of purity before prayer. If you are in a state of janabah (post-sexual impurity), you must perform ghusl (a full ritual bath) before prayer.
• If you are sick, traveling, or have come from the bathroom, and you cannot find water, you may perform tayammum (dry ablution) using clean earth or dust.

• Prayer in the Bathroom:
• According to FiqhQA #19 and #8, there is a difference of opinion among the schools of thought:
• The Hanafis, Malikis, Shafi'is, and some Hanbalis consider prayer valid in the bathroom if it is clean.
• However, the Hanbalis, in some narrations, consider it invalid under all circumstances.
• Some scholars, including Ali, have expressed dislike for praying in the bathroom, even if it is clean.

• Prayer Validity in General:
• The Hadith (Sunan Abu Dawud #822) states that prayer is not valid unless you recite at least the opening chapter of the Qur'an (Surah Al-Baqarah, Al-Baqarah 2:255).
• Another Hadith (Sunan Abu Dawud #1266) emphasizes that once the iqamah is called, the prayer is valid and must be performed.

Conclusion:
To determine whether your prayer is valid, you should consider:
• Are you in a state of ritual purity (wudu or ghusl)?
• Is the location where you are praying clean and permissible?
• Have you recited the necessary parts of the Qur'an during prayer?
• Is your prayer being performed at the correct time, and in accordance with the prescribed method?

If you are unsure about any of these factors, or if your local mosque has specific guidelines, it is best to consult with your local imam or the fatwa council of your mosque, as they can provide guidance based on your specific circumstances and the rulings of your local school of thought

Soalan / Question

What is the ruling on Imamah (leadership in prayer) of a distinguishing child in obligatory prayer?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

The ruling on the Imamah (leadership in prayer) of a distinguishing child (ṣabī mumayyiz) in obligatory prayer is as follows:

According to FiqhQA #18, the Hanafi, Maliki, Hanbali, and Imam Al-Awza'i schools of thought do not consider it valid for a discerning child to lead an adult in fard (obligatory) prayer. The reason given is that Imamah requires full religious competence (kamāl), which a child has not yet attained. There is also a concern that the child may fail to meet some of the conditions of salah properly.

On the other hand, the Shafi'i school, along with Hasan al-Basri, Ishaq ibn Rahwayh, and Ibn al-Mundhir, consider it valid for a discerning child to lead an adult in prayer.

Thus, the ruling varies among the madhhabs, with the majority of jurists (including Hanafi, Maliki, Hanbali, and Imam Al-Awza'i) not allowing a discerning child to lead in obligatory prayer, while the Shafi'i school and some scholars do permit it.

Soalan / Question

Does having a beard necessarily mean that a person is Muslim?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

No, having a beard does not necessarily mean that a person is Muslim. While some Islamic teachings and traditions encourage or recommend maintaining a beard, particularly in certain schools of thought, the presence of a beard alone is not sufficient to determine someone's religious identity.

The retrieved passages highlight that:

• The Qur'an emphasizes the importance of faith, prayer, and charity, not physical appearance (e.g., Qur'an 2:177, 10:100).
• Hadiths mention the importance of maintaining a beard and trimming the mustache, but these are religious guidelines, not definitive indicators of faith (e.g., Sunan an-Nasai #5046, Sahih al-Bukhari #5892).
• Fiqh sources discuss the recommended or obligatory nature of beard care in ablution and prayer, but again, these are practices within Islam, not proof of being Muslim.

Therefore, while a beard may be a sign of Islamic practice in some communities, it is not a definitive marker of being Muslim. One's faith is determined by belief in Allah, adherence to Islamic teachings, and actions in accordance with Islamic principles.

Soalan / Question

Which Prophet spoke to King Nimrod according to Islamic tradition?

Jawapan tanpa nama / Anonymous answer

According to Islamic tradition, the Prophet who spoke to King Nimrod is Prophet Abraham (Ibrahim).

This is supported by the Quranic passage in Surah Al-Baqarah (2:258), where it is mentioned that Abraham debated with a disbeliever (often identified as Nimrod) regarding the oneness of God. The passage describes how Abraham challenged the disbeliever's claim to divinity, and the disbeliever responded by asserting his power to raise the sun from the west, to which Abraham countered with a demonstration of divine power.

While the retrieved passages do not explicitly mention Nimrod by name, they do reference Abraham's debate with a disbeliever, which is traditionally associated with Nimrod in Islamic and historical narratives. Therefore, based on Islamic tradition and the context provided, Prophet Abraham is the one who spoke to King Nimrod.
